Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 41-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Faecher, U. S. Pub. No., 20010035088.

Regarding claim 41, Faecher discloses an electronic device with upload and download memory transfer and storage. Faecher disclosure comprises an electric guitar ((100)/figures 1-4) or game device (figure 5-6) including a memory for storing audio data (digital sound effects), which indicates an audio processing unit, therein; a personal computer (105/125/130) which may coupled to an Internet data base for exchanging and receiving data from and to the guitar, which reads on an Internet-connected appliance, of which the Internet-connected appliance accessing an Internet side to download a second audio effects software application is inherently disclosed as evident to the fact of the function of the PC and the Internet data base for accessing digital code data (sound effects) and speakers for outputting a desired music/sound effect (paragraph 0027-0031).

Regarding claim 42, Faecher discloses everything claimed as applied above (see claim 41). Faecher further disclose a CD-ROM with additional download code and/or the Internet data base coupled to the guitar and/or game device which stores a multiple digital codes which may be used by the devices, therein, which reads on a data repository.

Regarding claims 43-44, the claim limitations are rejected for the same reasons set forth above in claims 41 and 42.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 41-44 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

The applicant provides arguments against the prior art, Carey, for failing to disclose sound effects embedded in software applications. A new reference of prior art has been applied teaching the download of data code from the Internet, and additional audio data code may be stored in a CD-ROM and transmitted to the electronic devices, therein, wherein code may constitute as software applications.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
